The simple solution for your international relocation

International relocations are a logistical challenge due to the many partners involved. Place your move in the capable hands of the experts.

Moving to a foreign country is exciting enough in itself – will we like it there, will the job work out, will we settle in quickly? At times like these, you can do without the additional stress of your relocation.

Rosebrock has been working in this demanding field for over 100 years and offers you comprehensive relocation services under one roof. Make it easy on yourself with an experienced partner who offers you practical support above and beyond the actual relocation.

Global service: all over the world
Rosebrock relies on experienced partners who meet our high quality standards.

Consultation and quotation

Our relocation consultant will gladly discuss the planned move with you in the comfort of your home. We'll provide you with an individual quotation, allowing you to precisely calculate your costs.

Packing and loading

Entrust your furniture to the professionals: expert packing and stowing in containers gets you all set to go.

We'll also find the perfect solution when transporting your fragile works of art, valuable collections or family heirlooms. With us, even your family pet is in the best of hands.

If you can't take everything at once or want to have some items forwarded at a later date – no problem! Your household goods will be safe and sound in our temperature-controlled storage.

International transport routes

Differing import and export regulations and changing customs legislations need to be considered to meet the agreed schedule, making in-depth knowledge of each country's specific requirements extremely important.

We are here to help with words and deeds. We inform you regarding the specific import regulations, take care of required documents, and organize the clearance of your imported and exported goods.

Relocation

We'll be waiting for you at your new home. Experienced relocation partners will help you to settle into your new environment, support you in bureaucratic matters and take care of anything that will ease your new start.
